

Campobello

Chianti DOCG

Campobello was created by the Opici family to offer consumers one of Italy's most popular wines at an excellent value. The wines embody the esteemed traditions of Italian winemaking and those of Opici Wines. Long-established relationships with distinguished Tuscan growers provide consistency amongst this line year after year.

Varietal(s):

90% Sangiovese, 10% Canaiolo

Vineyards:

Located in the Chianti DOCG appellation of Tuscany, the grapes are carefully selected.

Winemaking:

Vinified in stainless steel tanks and minimally aged in oak for approximately 4 months to capture the true essence of the fruit, this wine is released shortly after the vintage.

Tasting Notes:

A dry red by nature, Campobello Chianti is an easy-drinking, approachable wine with bright acidity and mellow tannins. Strawberry and violet aromas form the bouquet. This fruit-forward wine is intended for consumption within a few years of the vintage.
